NOTE REGARDING
DIFFERENTIATED REGISTRATION FEES AT TSE

- What are the differentiated registration fees?

As part of the implementation of the « Bienvenue en France » strategy from the 2019-2020 academic year, international students, nationals of countries outside the European Union, are required to pay specific registration fees, which are added to the “classic” registration fees, i.e. the total amounts below for one year:

*Must be paid before enrollment here. Exemptions from the CVEC are possible.

- Are all non-EU students necessarily affected by those fees?

No, you can be automatically exempted if you qualify to at least one of the conditions listed on pages 2 and 3. In this case, no request is needed. The exemption will be granted upon presentation of the supporting documents, when compiling your administrative registration file (online or in person).

- If I do not benefit from an automatic exemption, can I request one?

Yes, every year TSE offers fee waivers to several students based on academic excellence. These criteria are detailed on page 4.

If you can show multiple supporting documents demonstrating the criteria, you can ask for a fee exemption to TSE’s Admissions Office.

If you have any questions about differential fees and possible exemptions, please contact the Admissions Office at: admissions@tse-fr.eu.
I do not benefit from any exemption. May I pay in several installments?

Finalising your enrollment implying paying at least one third of the total requested amount, namely 923 € for an enrollment in a Bachelor’s degree and 1,257 € for a Master’s degree. You will be offered the option of paying in three installments, both online and during an in-person appointment. The payment can only be made by debit card (no credit card). The 2nd and 3rd installments will be debited the following two months.
